Gettysburg National Bank To Observe Sesquicentennial Year; Opened In May, 1814

The Gettysburg National Bank, oldest bank in Adams County and among the oldest in all of Pennsylvania, is observing the 150th anniversary of its founding this year.

Established when the county was only 14 years old and numbering among its first directors James Gettys, the founder of Gettysburg, the bank has served this community at the same location for the last century and a half.

Thaddeus Stevens, a state legislator and congressman who is remembered best as the savior of the state's public school system, was an early director of the bank that has seen Adams County grow from the "poor backwater county" to a place of prominence in the state.

Dr. C. G. Crist, for years a member of the board of directors at the Gettysburg National and chairman of its Sesquicentennial committee, said today that this year of "celebration and re-dedication" will be marked by a series of special events.

The high point of the sesquicentennial celebration will come in May, the actual anniversary of the opening of the Bank of Gettysburg which in 1814 became the Gettysburg National Bank, one of the oldest national banks in the nation.

C. A. Wills, the bank's president for the last three decades, said today: "The Gettysburg National Bank has survived every financial panic and business depression since its founding. It came through the Battle of Gettysburg although it had to close its doors for a matter of a week or two but that did not interfere with the payment of the November six per cent dividend that year just as the bank had done two months before the battle."

ASSETS OVER $32 MILLION

"The bank has seen Gettysburg and Adams County grow from a frontier culture to a well balanced economic community. The bank has been favored with sound leadership since its beginning, including among its directors and officers many persons prominent in the history of the county, state and nation."

Continuing the steady growth that marked the first century of the bank's history, Mr. Wills noted that in the last 10 years the assets of the bank have more than doubled and with assets of $32,012,445.45 at the end of 1963 it continues to be the largest and

Superrocket Shot Delayed

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A fueling problem in the first stage today forced a 48-hour postponement, until Wednesday, of an attempt to launch the Saturn 1 super-rocket which is intended to orbit the world's heaviest satellite.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration called off the shot after the launching crew tried nearly three hours to correct a block in a fuel line which feeds liquid oxygen to the booster stage.

The space agency statement said the obstruction in the first stage fuel line apparently was a flange which had been used in a recent test and which had not been removed as intended. No other information was immediately available on the trouble.

A successful launching possibly could give the U. S. a lead over Russia in the race for space rocket power.

LOCAL STORES SET SALE DAYS THIS WEEKEND

The weather may be misleading, but Gettysburg's Retail Merchants have never been more serious than they are about the tremendous values to be offered this weekend in the annual mid-year Sales Days set for Friday and Saturday.

While the thermometer soared to near spring-like readings today, there still is more winter weather to come, according to the Farmers Almanac, and local merchants are eager to pass along fabulous savings on wearing apparel for every member of the family.

Last year's mammoth Semi-annual Sales Days set a new precedent for local shoppers and they're still talking about the great savings. This year's sales program promises even greater gains for the family budget.

40 IN SALE

More than 40 local merchants will join the town-wide sales days which open at 9 o'clock Friday morning. They offer not only unbelievable reductions in the prices of merchandise, but will give an additional $600 in prizes during the two-day promotion. Shoppers may register for prizes in each store and winners will be announced Sunday evening at 9 o'clock on WGET. Winners will be published in The Times on Monday. Each store will offer gift certificates of $10 and $5 to shoppers.

A special Sales Day edition will be published Wednesday in The Times for the convenience of shoppers seeking huge winter savings. Stores will remain open each day until 9 o'clock for the convenience of evening shoppers.

While some stocks are incomplete—some sizes and colors are no longer available—there is plenty of good winter merchandise at savings up to 50 per cent of original prices. Most merchants report ample stocks of children's apparel.

The converter was valued at $35.

To Exchange Ambassadors In 3 Months

PARIS (AP)—France officially recognized the Communist Chinese regime in Peking today.

Peking radio made a similar announcement.

The French announcement said the two governments had agreed to establish diplomatic relations and to exchange ambassadors.

There was no immediate indication of how this step would affect the ties between France and the Nationalist Chinese regime of President Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa.

French officials previously had said that Peking had not demanded that France break relations with Chiang as a condition for diplomatic ties, and the assumption was that France could therefore maintain relations with both regimes.

U. S. UNHAPPY

Peking Radio said France and Red China have agreed to appoint ambassadors to each other within three months.

In Washington, the U.S. State Department called France's recognition of Peking "an unfortunate step" and reaffirmed U.S. intentions to stand by the Nationalist regime. The State Department said it had "repeatedly expressed" its view to the French.

The State Department said the French recognition was particularly unfortunate since it came "at a time when the Chinese Communists are actively promoting aggression and subversion in Southeast Asia and elsewhere."

"MUTUAL ACCORD"

The French government announcement said:

"The government of the French Republic and the government of the People's Republic of China have decided, by mutual accord, to establish diplomatic relations.

"They have agreed, in this connection, to designate their ambassadors within three months."

France is the second major U.S. ally to recognize Communist China. The other was Britain, which opened diplomatic relations early in 1950, before the Korean War. But the Chinese have never agreed to exchange ambassadors with the British, and the top official of the British Mission in Peking is a charge d'affaires.

"NOT BOTHERED"

President Charles de Gaulle's government had informed the United States it would soon recognize the Peking regime. U.S. officials made no secret of their opposition, and President Johnson told a news conference Saturday his government had given its views to France along with an estimate of its general effect on the Atlantic Alliance and the free world in general.

De Gaulle, as expected, gave no outward indication that he was the least bothered by the American opposition.

One cause for U.S. concern was the likely effect of the French recognition on Red China's long battle for a seat in the United Nations.

Gettysburg

the oldest bank in the county.
TWO MAJOR ADVANCES

He also pointed to two major steps in the bank's development in the last few years. In 1960 an ultra-modern branch office was established on West St. in the heart of a growing business and residential section of the community. In 1963 the merger of the Gettysburg National Bank with the Biglerville National Bank combined the resources of "two progressive banks in two progressive Adams County communities to fill the business, professional and personal banking requirements of an expanding family of patrons."

Mr. Wills also said that the public is invited to share in the 150th anniversary celebration "by visiting the offices to view the special exhibits that will be placed on display during the year and by the use of the many modern banking services which are available at any of the bank's three offices in Gettysburg and Biglerville."

The Bank of Gettysburg opened for business in the York St. home of its first cashier, John B. McPherson, grandfather of the late Judge Donald P. McPherson, at the site of the present main office of the bank.

COBEAN FIRST PRESIDENT

Six depositors opened accounts that day and entrusted the new institution with $3,010.37 of their savings. On that same day applications for loans totaling $15,000 were received.

The first board of directors included Robert Hayes, Andrew Will, Alexander Cobean, James Gettys, Walter Smith, Ralph Lashells and Jacob Eyster, all of Gettysburg; Bernard Gilbert, Littlestown; Amos McGinley, Fairfield; Michael Slagle, Conewago Twp.; John Dickson, Straban Twp.; William Wireman, Littlemore Twp., and Patrick Reed from Emmitsburg.

That board had met three days before the bank opened and elected Alexander Cobean as its first president. John B. McPherson was named the first cashier and Jacob Eyster was secretary.

HAD BUSY YEAR

Cobean, who was one of the largest stockholders in the new institution, had been a member of the state Legislature in 1799 and 1800, the year Adams County was founded and history gives him a major share of the credit for winning the county seat for Gettysburg.

He had been a marshall, moving in 1796 and expanding his wide business interests. He was a candidate for Congress for the Federalist party in the year he assumed the bank presidency and a few months after taking on the bank responsibility marched to Baltimore as the captain of a local company. He was made a colonel in the Battle of North Point and he was usually referred to thereafter as Col. Cobean.

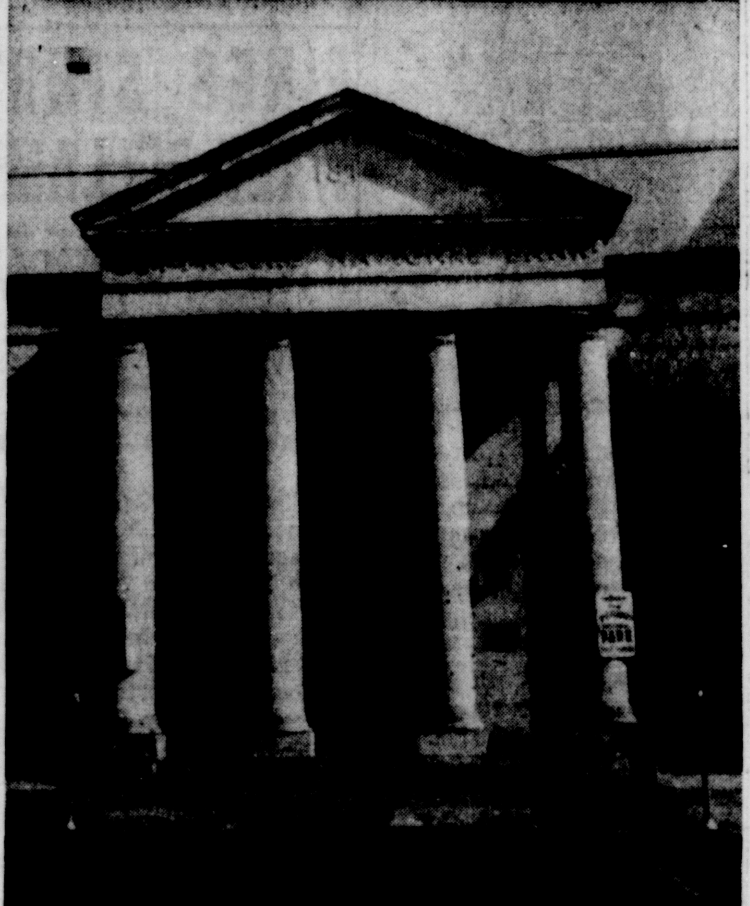

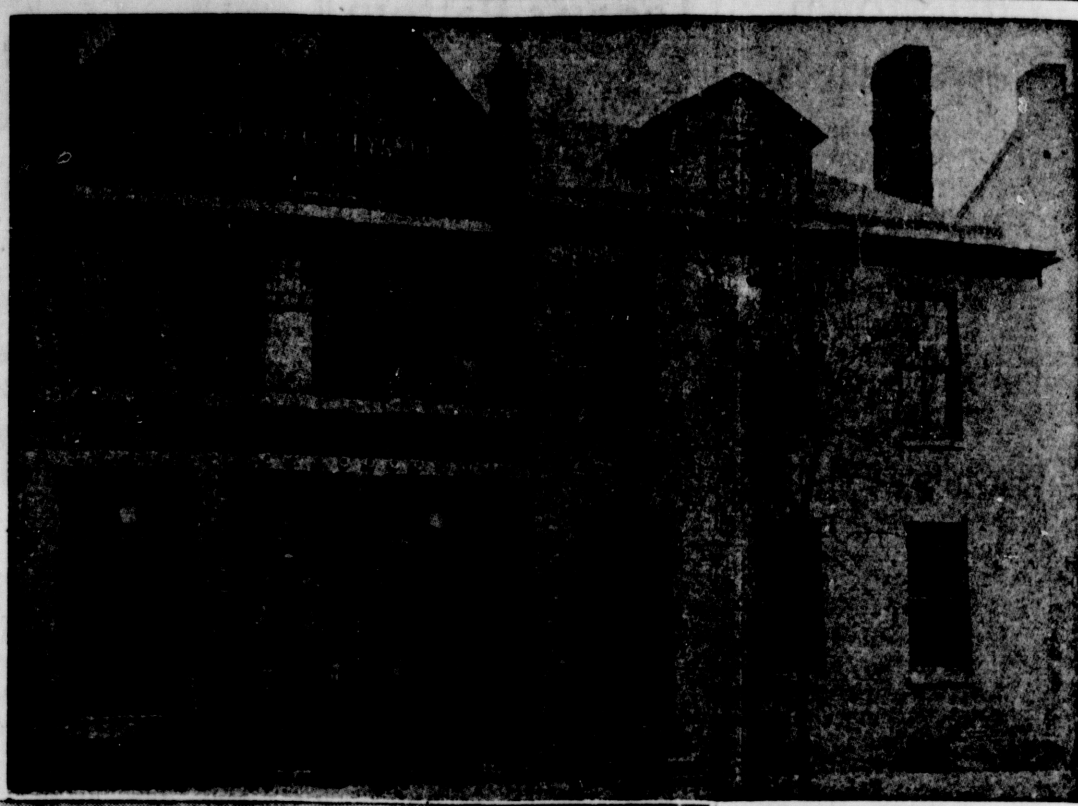

When Thaddeus Stevens came to Gettysburg in 1816 he told friends he regarded Col. Cobean as "the strongest man then in the community." His place at the bank during his military duty in 1814 was taken by Director Walter Smith, who was deputized by Cobean to that duty. Col. Cobean returned to Gettysburg that September and resumed his duties at the bank. Col. Cobean built the Wills House and the first county jail which stood in what is now Lincoln Square.

PLAN SPECIAL DISPLAYS

A later president was Judge David Wills, Abraham Lincoln's host on his visit to Gettysburg November 18 and 19, 1863, to dedicate the National Cemetery. Judge Wills was an attorney and was a county superintendent of schools in addition to his responsibilities at the bank.

The list of officers and directors of the Gettysburg National for the last century and a half reads like a "Who's Who" in Gettysburg and Adams County business and professional circles in that period.

Special displays and observances of key dates will be highlighted throughout the sesquicentennial year at the bank, President Wills said.

The upper photo shows the Gettysburg National Bank as it looked in 1893 at its York St. location adjoining the home of its first cashier, John B. McPherson. The name, "The Bank of Gettysburg," to be seen high above the entrance, was its original title when it was established in 1814. It became the Gettysburg National Bank in 1864. The men standing in front are not identified but Judge David Wills was president then. William D. Mimes was vice president and J. Emory Bair cashier; Charles M. McCurdy, assistant cashier, and J. W. Kendlehart was the teller. The lower photo shows the bank front as it appears today at the same site.

He said summer session tuition will be increased by $10 per course unit to $100, but there are no tuition changes planned for graduate and professional schools.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A bright economy picture has been painted by the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia.

In a statement based on a consensus of forecasts, the bank said 1964 will be the best on record, with or without a tax cut. It predicted business will rise 5.5 per cent, about equal to the 1963 rate of growth.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Our Next President: It is a decided thing — the people have decreed it — that Abraham Lincoln shall be re-elected President, and no power can prevent it. All over the country, wherever the question of a candidate is agitated, "Honest Old Abe" sweeps all before him. At a meeting of the Union League of Lancaster, held on Thursday evening, President Lincoln was unanimously re-nominated. It is so all over the country. The people, clubs, Leagues and Legislative bodies of loyal men everywhere are for Abraham Lincoln and all the power of Copperheadism cannot prevent his re-election.

The following is a list of the members of Capt. Adair's Company (F) and Capt. Pfeiffer's (I) of the 87th Regiment P.V. who have re-enlisted as veterans. Company F, Captain Adair: William H. Gray, George T. Little, Gettysburg; Amos Keffer, Mountjoy township; James Steinhour, Arendtsville; Company I, Capt. Pfeiffer, F. J. Thomas, Sgt. James Logan, Samuel V. Martz, Joseph McElroy, New Oxford; Thomas McLain, Union Twp.; Andrew Mummert, Thomas Sayers, Heidelberg Twp., York Co.; Geo. W. Shriver, Papertown, Cumberland Co.; David H. Thomas, New Oxford.

Among Mail To Be Let: Among the Maryland proposals to be received until March 31, and let April 25, we find the following: From Westminster, by Union Mills, Silver Run, Littlestown, Two Taverns, Gettysburg, Seven Stars Castown, Grafenberg and Fayetteville, to Chambersburg, 49 miles and back, six times a week. Leave Westminster daily, except Sunday, at 1 p.m.; arrive at Gettysburg by 8 p.m. Leave Gettysburg daily, except Sunday at 3:30 p.m.; arrive at Chambersburg by 9:30 p.m.; Leave Chambersburg daily, except Sunday at 7 a.m.; arrive at Gettysburg by 1 p.m. Leave Gettysburg daily, except Sunday at 4 a.m.; arrive at Westminster by 11 a.m.

Mr. Herman Mertz will open a book bindery on the first of February in a room on the second floor of the Star and Sentinel Building.

Pennsylvania College: The adjourned meeting of the Board of Trustees of Pennsylvania College on Tuesday last was an unusually important one. The building committee was instructed to proceed with the work and complete the new college building under the terms of the contract. The same committee was authorized to make the necessary changes to convert the Linnaean Hall into a Gymnasium, and the present Gymnasium into a Chemical Laboratory. The chapter of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity was granted permission to erect a chapter house at such point on the College Campus as shall hereafter be determined upon. Dr. George D. Stahley, of Easton, a graduate of the College, was elected professor of the newly established chair of physical culture and hygiene. He will enter upon his duties at the commencement of the next collegiate year, September 1. All the buildings on the campus will probably be heated from a central steam plant, to be located on the grounds. The board appointed a committee to watch developments in Congress with regard to the establishment of military departments in colleges and if deemed practicable to secure an instructor for our institution.

MOVING THINGS ABOUT

Too many of us are afraid of change. Yet change is the one great law of Nature. Everything in Nature is forever changing. That's what makes this world such an interesting one.

Take a room for example, in which you have lived for a long time. A mere changing about of the furniture lifts its entire appearance, so that you take an added interest and enjoyment in it.

Moving this body of ours about does it a world of good. Giving it new environment stimulates the mind and adds to the activity of every organ within the body. People who have traveled about the world return to their home towns not only refreshed in body, but with a new viewpoint on human beings and of world conditions as they are related to those about which they are most familiar.

Arrangement is an art that too many neglect. We need to rearrange our activities as much as we need to rearrange things about us. Things and people who stay in the same place too long lose personality. They decline in interest and usefulness.

The farmer is forever moving things about. His fields each year are usually changed to different uses than the year before. Lands get "tired" and need rest. So do human beings. Hobbies are useful for they change the thought of a person to new fields of interest which is good for the mind.

The bird may return to the same locality, after its seasonal change, but it builds a new nest.

Different teachers in a school challenge the minds of those seeking knowledge, each one in a different way. Thoughts, therefore, keep moving about, and the constructive process is thus enhanced for the student. Research, as well, is stimulated.

Military leaders recognize this useful procedure by keeping activity along many lines and changes. Fear is greatly eliminated by music, singing, sports, entertainment and reading. The busy mind neither worries nor fears. A change of locale adds to morale among soldiers.

Even the arrangement of an office, frequently changed, adds to the efficiency of workers and enlivens their interest.

Just Folks

PROOF OF LIFE

It's good to have a holiday and leave the tasks a while, it's good at times to take a rest and drop behind a mile, But who has nothing left of care And not another mile to fare Gets little pleasure from a day, though skies are bright overhead; Who has no dream he must pursue, No future task he wants to do, No need which he alone can serve might just as well be dead.

It's good at times to wake at dawn to face an idle day, To spurn the working tools of life and spend the hours in play, But who has finished every task Will find the life of him will ever ask Will find the path of pleasure is a dreary road to tread; Who sees no cause which he can aid, No further progress to be made, No wrong to right, no ill to cure— might just as well be dead.

Not long for living men is rest— tomorrow needs us all.

While we can hear and see and think on us the world will call; To suffer pain and hear the cry For help from others passing by; To long for rest and yet by day for some far goal to strive; To worry, fret and grope along; To sense the bitterness of wrong And ache and dream and grieve and hope is proof that we're alive!

FINES SPURT WALT BELLAMY AND BULLETS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That $400 in fines Baltimore Coach Bob Leonard levied against Walt Bellamy lowered his salary but raised his average.

Bellamy, fined $200 on each of two occasions earlier this month, has scored 186 points in a five-game spurt for a 33.2 average. And the Bullets have turned into the hottest team in the National Basketball Association with five consecutive victories.

Bellamy scored 42 points and grabbed 22 rebounds while Gus Johnson contributed 29 points and 21 rebounds as Baltimore rolled to a 131-120 triumph over Philadelphia Sunday. It was the highest point total reached by the Bullets in two years in the NBA.

Philadelphia's 76ers led briefly in the first half but Bellamy and Johnson pulled the Bullets into a 50-all tie, then led a 13-point spurt that put it out of reach. John Kerr and Dave Gambee led the 76ers with 22

Gaekler's Late Splurge Gives Bullets 60-56 Win Over Invading Rutgers

Five straight points in the last minute and a half by Roger Gaekler enabled the Gettysburg College basketball team to pull a 60-56 decision out of the fire over Rutgers University Saturday evening in the physical education building before about 1,000 fans.

Both teams, in particular the Bullets, had their troubles getting the ball through the hoop. Time and again Gettysburg players missed wide open lay-ups following fast breaks. Rutgers happened to be in the same boat which made the score a lot closer. The Bullets connected on 22 of their 61 shots while Rutgers landed 21 of 56 tosses from the field. The big difference was Gettysburg's foul shooting. The Bullets netted 16 of 19 charity tosses while the Scarlet was held to 14 of 27 shots.

After jumping to a 30-20 lead at halftime, Rutgers came right back in the second half to increase their lead by four points on shots by Ed Thiele and Phil Robinson. Gaekler connected from the corner and Chris Sirms and George Strouse netted fouls to cut the visitors' lead to 34-33 at the 16:34 mark. Sal LaSala, Tom Ashley, Robinson and Dennis Earl came back with seven straight tallies. Rutgers maintained its lead up to the 4:30 mark when Strouse made good on the one-and-one foul situation to give the Bullets a 51-50 advantage.

LEAD SEESAW
The score then alternated four times. Earl gave Rutgers a 56-55 lead at 1:47 converting a three-point play up the middle. This set the stage for Gaekler's eventual game-winning tip rebound at the 1:28 mark. During the last 53 seconds Gaekler went to dunk three of four charity tosses to ice the victory for Bob Rutledge's cagers.

Gettysburg spotted Rutgers a 7-0 lead after the first 4:31 minutes of the game. The Bullets hit on their first bucket of the game at the 15:18 mark when George Strouse sank a jumper from the left side. At 10:23 Gettysburg moved to a 12-11 lead on Kepner's inside shot and the Bullets led up to the late moments of the first 20 minutes. With 1:16 to go in the half, Earl connected on a pair of fouls. Thiele landed a hook under the basket and Earl followed with two more free tosses to give Rutgers a 30-25 lead with 32 seconds remaining. Gettysburg closed the gap to one point on Chuck Richardson's drive from the left side and Don Saegda's corner jump.

Strouse topped the Bullets' scorers with 16 tallies while Chris Sirms netted 12. Gaekler, who replaced the fouled out Doug Kepner midway through the second half, collected nine of 10 points in that half and also rolled up eight of his 10 rebounds in the last 20 minutes. Kepner pulled down 12 rebounds. Dennis Earl poured through 14 points for Rutgers while Phil Robinson netted 12. Robinson also led the Scarlet in rebounds with 11.

The loss was Rutgers' ninth straight in 10 games this year. Gettysburg has now won nine of its last 10 games for a 9-4 record on the season.

LA SALLE HERE WEDNESDAY
Bob Rutledge's cagers will have their work cut out Wednesday evening when they entertain powerful LaSalle. Once again there will be just one half game. The important Middle Atlantic Conference, university division battle will get underway at 8 o'clock.

Koufax To Be Honored Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers' masterful left-hander who had a 25-5 record and two wins over the New York Yankees in the World Series, receives America's Athlete of the Year award today.

The award will be presented by the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association at its 60th annual banquet.

All-America Scott Appleton of Texas receives an award as the College Lineman of the Year.

The sports writers also present a Most Courageous Athlete of 1963 award, but the identity of the recipient is kept secret until the presentation.

Strampe, who now lives in Detroit, had taken a long weekend to compete in the American Bowling Congress tournament in St. Louis in 1959.

Then came an unexpected long distance telephone call from his boss in Minneapolis. His advice, Strampe recalls, was:

TURNED TO BOWLING
"Bowling good, because you are not working here any more."

Strampe, then 27 and newly married, decided to turn to the only other thing he knew—bowling.

Since that fateful decision the slender, balding Strampe has become a top ranking pro with an annual income he says is around $15,000.

Strampe won bowling's big prize title by shooting a fat 257-225-203—885 series against a quickly-wilting Tommy Tuttle.

WON IN WALKAWAY
The chubby, likeable little newcomer from Rural Hall, N.C., mustered a 220-170-226—616 series, but it was really no contest after the fifth frame of the middle game.

Tuttle, virtually unknown before this event opened Jan. 15, received a runnerup prize of $6,000.

The Don Carter family of St. Louis won another All-Star trophy.

ANOTHER CARTER WIN
This time it was Laverne Carter who took the $5,000 championship check. Her husband, four-time All-Star champion, coached his high-kicking blonde wife from a box seat during the finals. He had been eliminated from the tournament before the semifinals.

Mrs. Carter poured in a 247-226-190—663 series as she easily defeated Evelyn Teal of Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Teal, 40, who has a 21-year old daughter at the University of Florida, rolled a brilliant 184-181-244—609 series and won $3,000.

CLAY BEGINS BALLYHOO FOR LISTON FIGHT

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Sonny Liston sat inside a private room at the airport with an 11-year-old admirer on his knee, posing for photographers. Outside the locked door, Cassius Clay was yelling, "Come on out. Open the door. Hey, what's the secret?"

The ballyhoo for the Feb. 25 heavyweight title fight at Miami Beach between the stolid champ and the big challenger was off and running.

Earlier Clay and his entourage, equipped with handsome canes, waited menacingly at the gate where Liston's plane was due to land. "I'm going to whip that man," said Clay again and again as he has been saying for months. "I'm the real champ. Why is he late? What's he scared of?"

YELLED FOR SONNY
When the plane finally arrived, Clay took off his coat and yelled for Sonny who was the last man to exit from the first class compartment. It was like the old burlesque days with Clay's handlers holding their finger to their lips and making a pass at the man whom he will fight next month. After all the conferences that were needed to make the match, you can imagine Clay fighting Liston for free at an airport.

A luggage truck with a fringe on the top quickly spirited Liston and his party away to the private room. Willie Reddish, the champ's trainer and a former fighter, almost got a poke on the head from the Clay crowd.

Bill MacDonald, the promoter, and Chris Dundee, his partner, quickly took charge of the arrival party. Press agents barred the door to Liston who kept rapping on the portal with his cane.

NOT GOOD CHALLENGER
Liston sat still for interviews, his poker face reflecting his annoyance at Clay's persistence. MacDonald whispered something in the champ's ear and there was a semblance of a half smile.

The champ was asked if he had read some remarks attributed to Clay about his training camp in Las Vegas. Clay is suspected of having leanings toward the Muslims, an anti-white organization.

"I feel Clay should tend to his own business," said Liston. "And make no remarks about what I do. He is not really a good challenger. I guess he is deservingly No. 1. I don't rate 'em, I fight 'em."

Was Liston upset?
"FINISH IN FIVE"
"Even iron wears out after a while," he said. "People get enough of anything. I didn't expect him to show up here. I don't expect him to show up the night of the fight. He might run but I'll finish him within five."

Liston and his wife, plus the Joe Louis family and Liston's handlers, ducked out through a side door, leaving Clay in the midst of an oration.

"What's the matter with that man?" said Clay while waiting for his limousine. "If he's the champ, why is he running away?"

Miami fans can expect more of the same from now on, sometimes twice a day.

A jam-packed house watched the Bermudian Springs High School basketball team take over the lead in the Adams Division by nipping New Oxford 66-61 in a thrilling double overtime game Saturday evening at York Springs.

The teams had been deadlocked for first place.

New Oxford held a 39-35 lead at half-time and at the end of three periods was on top 59-53 but the Eagles rallied to knot the score at 70-70 at the end of the regulation game. Both teams managed seven points in the first overtime to make it 77-77.

COME FROM BEHIND
The Colonials jumped to an 81-77 lead in the opening moments of the second overtime but goals by Joe Wolf and Don Shellehammer tied it for Bermudian. Wolf then broke the deadlock with a foul conversion and Jim Harbold added four more to lock up the verdict.

Bermudian's margin came from the free throw lane on 26 of 48 conversions as compared to but 17 of 28 for New Oxford.

Four Bermudian players hit double figures. Wolf landing 25, Ed Rodrock 23, Warren Weaver 15 and Shellehammer 11.

Jack Sneddon of New Oxford was the game's top point man with 32. He fouled out near the end of the first overtime. John Harner added 29.

The preliminary was also a thrilling overtime affair, four extra periods being required before New Oxford triumphed 43-41.

TRACK, FIELD RECORDS FALL OVER WEEKEND

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A flock of indoor track and field records—most of the obscure variety—were broken or tied in four weekend meets as Olympic hopefuls from many nations heightened their preparations for Tokyo, only to have the thunder stolen by a couple of Down Under distance men.

Tiny Albie Thomas of Australia, who equalled the three-mile mark in Toronto Friday, and New Zealand's Bill Baile, who just missed the two-mile record in Portland Saturday, were the stars of the indoor circuit despite the record efforts of sprinter Bob Hayes and veteran hurdler Hayes Jones.

The 5-foot-4, 124-pound Thomas equalled the world indoor three-mile record in 13:26.4 while Baile finished the two-mile in 8:31.9, just 1.2 seconds off the record.

ESTABLISHED RECORD
Jones, the Detroit veteran who now has won 49 consecutive indoor hurdles events, rushed to a 5.9 time over four hurdles and 50 yards in Toronto, breaking his own world record of six seconds flat.

The barrel-chested Hayes, competing in Albuquerque, ran a six second flat 60-yard dash, equalling the record.

In Winnipeg, Tom Robinson of the Bahamas, established a world record for the rarely-run 300-meters, finishing in 35 seconds flat. Other top performances there included a 61.2 shot put by Parry O'Brien of Pasadena and Bill Crozier's 1:09.7 run in the 600 yards.

Ralph Boston scored a double in the Oregon meet, winning the 60-yard hurdles in 7.3 and the 100-yard dash with 25.8.

The St. Francis Xavier School varsity (2-5) trailed throughout in losing to Annunciation of McSherrystown here Sunday afternoon 57-30 in a Parochial League game.

Annunciation employed a fast-breaking attack that the Red Raiders were unable to stem. At half time the score was 26-9.

Weikert and Hartzell led the Raiders with 12 and 10 points, respectively, while the winners were sparked by Marshall and Sunday with 24 and 19.

The local Fifth and Sixth Graders, down 8-2 at the end of the first period, fought back to take the preliminary 22-16.

Next Sunday the Raiders will oppose New Oxford on the Delone High floor at McSherrystown.

U. S. TO REMAIN FIRM IN POLICY TOWARD PEKING

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is seeking to cushion the impact of the impending French recognition of Communist China with reassurances that it will not change U.S. policy in the Far East.

High diplomatic sources making this known Saturday said Secretary of State Dean Rusk in private talks with Japanese and South Korean leaders over the next five days will stress American intentions to hold the line in its policy toward Peking.

SPEAKS IN TOKYO

Rusk is due to make an important policy speech in Tokyo on Tuesday in which he will restate the American policy of supporting the independence of young postwar countries faced with Communist subversion and infiltration.

He was also expected to reaffirm U.S. intentions of honoring its treaty commitments to Nationalist China.

The hope in Washington is that the expected French action will not touch off a wave of recognition by other countries and upset the balance of power in the United Nations. The United Nations has refused thus far to oust Nationalist China in order to seat Communist China.

REGARDS MITCHEL

The State Department has made clear it regards the French recognition move as a mistake and simply a reward to Chinese Communist belligerence and aggression.

There is considerable hope here that the French-speaking African nations will not follow the lead of Paris in extending recognition to Peking.

This hope has been fortified by reports that the takeover of Zanzibar's month-old government by a Peking-leaning leftist group has upset other African nations.

Informants said there are indications that most of the 12 French-speaking African countries in the Afro-Malagasy union will refrain from following Paris. If they swing in the other direction, however, their U.N. votes could make a decisive change in favor of Peking.

LBj STRATEGY FOR NOVEMBER IS SUGGESTED

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two old senatorial friends of President Johnson appear to have unveiled the strategy by which he hopes to salvage some Southern electoral support while championing civil rights.

As it emerged in speeches Friday night by two leading Dixie senators — Richard B. Russell of Georgia and George A. Smathers of Florida — the formula pointed toward convincing Southerners:

— That they can blame any civil rights legislation that Congress may enact primarily on those whom Russell called "professional agitators."

— That they should retain loyalty to the Democratic party because the Republicans offer no better alternative.

SMATHERS VERSION

Smathers put it this way at a party rally in Birmingham, Ala.:

"Either we stay with the party of the South, the party of our forefathers, the party that has brought prosperity to the people of America, or we seek consolation in the party of the Rockefeller and the Javitses. . . ."

Smathers linked his attack on the two New York Republicans, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sen. Jacob K. Javits, with jibes at Sen. Barry Goldwater, like Rockefeller a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

WALLACE NOT BUYING

Obviously not buying the party loyalty theme, Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace told the fund-raising dinner that Southern identical electors free to vote for someone other than the national awaiting permission to make its approach to Philadelphia International Airport. The CAB said last Dec. 12 that it had found evidence of a lightning strike and subsequent explosion.

TWO GOP VETS GET BACKING FOR OFFICES

By DAVE LEHERR

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two veteran Pennsylvania lawmakers have all but wrapped up the endorsement of the Republican State Committee as candidates for auditor general and Sen. Robert D. Fleming for treasurer.

Their names will be put before the full 113-member state committee Tuesday at a meeting in Hershey, but no opposition is expected.

The committee also nominated Gov. Scranton as an at-large delegate for the Republican national convention in San Francisco next July and endorsed U.S. Senator Hugh Scott and Superior Court Judge Robert E. Woodside for re-election.

NOT A CANDIDATE

Scranton, considered by many a presidential contender, has said repeatedly he would be delighted to lead the Pennsylvania delegation, but thinks it should go into the convention uncommitted.

Meanwhile, he still insists he is not a candidate and would accept the nomination only on an honest and sincere draft.

Republican sources see little chance of any of the recommendations by the special committee being thrown out since all sections of Pennsylvania and all elements within the party were fully represented. The special committee was appointed and headed by Republican State

PMS Says It's "Astonished"

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Medical Society says it is astonished at remarks by Senate Minority Leader Charles R. Weiner blaming the profession for understaffed hospitals.

"Your remarks . . . indicate that you have been misinformed about the medical profession to a degree that we find astonishing," said society President Wilbur E. Flannery of New Castle.

Flannery's statement was contained in a letter to Weiner Friday. Copies also went to members of the Senate and House Appropriations Committees conducting hearings on the Scranton administration's $1.168 billion budget.

Weiner, a Philadelphia Democrat, said during the hearings last Wednesday that the "short-sighted policy" of the medical profession was blocking expansion and growth of medical schools.

"The profession does not see the need for additional medical schools," Weiner said.

Chairman Craig Truax.

No action was taken on the second Superior court judgeship at stake.

Truax said the GOP originally planned to back incumbent Chester M. Rhodes on the sitting judge principal.

But the 77-year-old Rhodes said Sunday night he has no intentions of running for a new term.

The Republicans are expected to name a candidate for his seat in the next day or two.

WARDROBE PERK-UPS. A jaded winter wardrobe perks up at once when you add a spring touch. Just try these daffy-down-dillies:

● Wear a starched ruffled blouse under a dark suit—any color as long as its white. If the jacket buttons, let the ruffles ring the neckline. But fill in with a cascade of ruffles, if the jacket swings free. A pale or bright suit takes on a fresh look when teamed with a garden print, be it in a silky blouse, scarf or gilet.

● To pick up a tired coat, carry a big, important tote. This bag fashion is staging a comeback by popular request. Pale reptile versions and somber coats are made for each other. Lighter coatings take to the polish of a black patent tote.

● Spark any wool daytime dress with a necklace of frosty white beads, big as marshmallows.

● Break out a pair of chambray-toned gloves—sueded nylons, let's say—when you wear a dark after-five.

● A new chapeau, of course, would give any costume — any woman—new zing. Zingy is the word for hats, what with their swooping brims and hot colors.

An investment in any of those accessories will prove of more than momentary value. All are slated for fashion favor throughout the coming season. It's a case of long enjoyment.

Right-to-work Laws Reduce Strike Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — States with right-to-work laws lose half as much time through strikes as do states without such statutes.

The 2-to-1 ratio is borne out in Labor Department figures for 1962, the latest year for which this data is available.

In the 20 states with laws banning the union shop, working time lost was 0.09 per cent. The time lost figure for the 30 states that do not have right-to-work laws was 0.18 per cent.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE FICTION IN THE READER'S DIGEST

The December issue of the Reader's Digest carries one of the most vicious attacks ever made against the nation's rural electric cooperative in an article entitled "The REA—A Case Study of Bureaucracy Run Wild."

Although the Digest periodically castigates REA as being government-subsidized (which it is not), the magazine never mentions its own lush government subsidy: a second-class mailing privilege that the Post Office estimated saved the Digest some $5-million a year. This is money that is taken directly from the pockets of U. S. taxpayers and isn't paid back. REA loans are repaid, of course, with interest.

Here are some of the many misrepresentations that appear in the current Digest article. The facts follow the quotes:

QUOTE: "The REA—A Case Study of Bureaucracy Run Wild."

FACT: The United States Congress—not REA—after hearings and committee investigation voted the largest appropriations in REA's history to meet the growing capital needs of the program. Congress even voted more administrative funds than REA asked for to take care of the growing demands.

QUOTE: "REA is a monster eating into the entire electric power industry."

FACT: REA-financed systems make up only one per cent of the entire electric business — and this small percentage was created in areas private power companies refused or could not serve. Power companies profits are at an all-time high and their flagrant overcharges have been verified by the Federal Power Commission.

QUOTE: "Eating into the taxpayer's pocketbook as well."

FACT: Tax-producing wealth created by REA-financed electric systems adds over a billion and a quarter dollars annually to the Gross National Product by creating markets for electric appliances, wiring and equipment. Grade A milk, universal in the U. S., could not be produced economically in quantities but for electric service. Rural homes and farms justify higher evaluations with electric service available, resulting in greater local tax income. Industry is attracted and greater economic activity results. Health standards are raised and hospitals are possible. Defense and transcontinental communication needs are met. For taxpayers outside the rural electric service areas, their tax burdens are lessened by the billions.

QUOTE: "Regarding Florida Eglin Air Force Base, 'the federal subsidy allowed the tax-free co-op to grab business from a long established taxpaying private utility' and 'the Gulf Power Co. offered to furnish the electricity from its nearby power system.'"

FACT: The Comptroller of the U. S. (no admirer of REA) reviewed the REA loan, and said "it is clear that Gulf Power would have to extend its lines approximately 15 miles to serve the radar site." The cooperative line is 4 miles away.

QUOTE: "Such senseless spending and ruthless squashing of private enterprise are not all that is involved."

FACT: The REA loan is a part of a long-range development plan to bring power to areas Gulf Power will not serve under any conditions. The airbase radar load helps the co-op develop its marginal territory and its limited number of consumers into a better system more able to serve future demands.

Gulf's profits and stock rating along with other power companies are regarded by investors as one of the "growth stocks" of the financial world.

QUOTE: "By diverting the contract from the privately owned Gulf Power Co., the REA has deprived the government of $43,500 a year in corporation taxes."

FACT: Even the Comptroller General disagreed with this. What Reader's Digest neglected to say is that the government would be paying this $43,500 to the power company, in the first place, plus additional tax liability to cover all the company tax subsidies, investment credits and their share of gross profits.

QUOTE: "In Indiana, tax-fed co-ops are pirating away millions of dollars worth of business from private enterprise."

FACT: This is sheer fantasy. Co-ops are private enterprise, incorporated under state laws. Their loans are restricted by federal law so as not to compete with power companies: It is the power companies who invade co-op service areas and pirate away business planned to complete area coverage standards. The government restrictions confine loans to developing areas the power companies would not or could not serve. It is not—and never was—business the power companies wanted. Now that development has grown where power companies want to merge rural systems into their own business and become sole electric suppliers in the country, they scream that the little co-ops hurt their business. Actually they get a $100-million in additional power sales from the co-ops.

QUOTE: "With the job now virtually completed, REA continued to expand."

FACT: Another line right out of the utility propaganda book. Does Reader's Digest advocate that power companies stop investing $4-billion a year to expand service to customers already receiving service? Rural customers' needs grow the same as urban customers.

QUOTE: "REA co-ops with their two-per cent subsidy and tax-free advantages are competing unfairly with private business."

FACT: The power business is a monopoly and not private competitive enterprise as the term is used in the business world. Reasonable profits are guaranteed by state regulation. Usually business risks are ruled out. REA interest loan rates and nonprofit operations are not factors in a utility's ability to carry on its business in its own service areas. There is no competition between electric systems. It is outlawed by state regulations. The interest rate and nonprofit state statutes are equalizers for the co-op to help overcome the lack of density in serving marginal territories no one else wanted. Power companies have the same "tax advantages" if they would forego profits.

QUOTE: "REA has barged into the industrial loan business, an activity far removed from its original design."

FACT: Reader's Digest writers carefully omit the fact that REA does not make commercial loans as described in the article. The House Oversight Committee held hearings on power company claims, such as Reader's Digest voices, and concluded there was nothing to substantiate the criticisms of funds loaned to develop ski resort equipment and the like.

QUOTE: "REA-subsidized co-ops use their tax-free earnings for a variety of private, profit-making ventures."

FACT: This utility propaganda line was investigated by the Congress several years ago and found to be completely untrue.

QUOTE: "Many co-ops have been allowed to draw more funds from REA's kitty despite remarkable records of prosperity. REA recently admitted that by June 1962, 217 borrowers had piled up cash and liquid reserves equalling more than 20 per cent of the entire value of their plants."

FACT: A good answer is to use the authors' own words, further along in the article: "During REA's entire history only nine co-ops have thus paid off their government loans out of their earnings. This is an incredibly poor record."

It is utility practice to have 40 per cent in reserves of the plant value. By the authors' own statement, less than a fourth of the co-ops have half that amount. Here is a sound reason why the REA financing must be continued until the co-ops are on a stable financial footing.

Incidentally power companies do not pay off their capital debt — they re-finance it, something the co-ops cannot do under loan contract terms with the government. Starting from scratch, co-ops have to pay off their loans and create their own equities at the same time.

QUOTE: "REA is pouring out gigantic funds for the construction of co-op power plants."

FACT: Consumers need greater supplies of power, whether they are customers of power companies or co-ops. The co-op plants do not supply power company customers—only their own.

QUOTE: "Regarding the Indiana generating loan, 'it was a pure giveaway, for private enterprise with adequate power facilities was able and willing to supply energy to these co-ops at reasonable rates.'"

FACT: This loan has met every test invoked by power companies and been proved sound and in the public interest.

QUOTE: "Description of Colorado-Ute G-T development."

FACT: The account is lacking in credibility and authenticity. Reader's Digest fails to mention the loan was approved by the Colorado regulatory agency.

QUOTE: "The simple fact is that they (co-ops) no longer need to be propped up by the taxpayers."

FACT: The variable factors involved in some 1,000 rural situations across the Nation cannot be reduced to a "simple fact" which covers a majority, if not all the problems. Present financing conditions have made possible service to nearly 20-million people living in over one-half the land area of the United States receiving electric service. Local rural leaders, working without pay to improve their living conditions, organized nonprofit organizations to do the job private utilities did not do. This great achievement of free citizens solving problems corporate management could not do should make an inspirational article for Reader's Digest.

BLUE CROSS

Special Offer Open Until January 31

GOVERNOR SCRANTON'S STATEMENT ON COMMUNITY PREPAYMENT WEEK

I commend the Blue Cross plans of Pennsylvania for making possible this special statewide enrollment opportunity. I commend their action in coordinating this enrollment with the March 1 effective date of the State's purchase of hospital care program.

All of us in Pennsylvania can be proud of the progress made in meeting the hospital care needs of our citizens.

Our voluntary community hospitals are among the finest in the nation. Our community prepayment plans have made it possible for Pennsylvania residents to join together to pay for their hospital care on a dignified, self-reliant basis. And, through recent bipartisan action of the General Assembly, the Commonwealth now has a comprehensive program established to help those low-income citizens unable to pay for the hospital care they must have.

Our State program of care for needy persons over age 65 has been broadened. It now has the most liberal eligibility requirements in the country. And legislation which becomes effective March 1, 1964 provides an improved method to help low-income patients under age 65 obtain tax-financed hospital care if they need the assistance.

Our nonprofit Blue Cross plans, operating under special enabling legislation, are now offering this unique enrollment opportunity to those who can afford a moderate monthly payment.

I am pleased to designate the week of January 20, 1964 as Community Prepayment Week throughout the Commonwealth. I urge all who are able to do so to enroll for coverage at this time

WHO IS ELIGIBLE FOR FREE CARE UNDER NEW STATE LAW TO AID HOSPITALS?

AS OF March 1, 1964, State payments to hospitals for treatment they render to needy bed patients (in-patients) under 65 years of age will be greatly improved. The new program will provide realistic assistance to persons under age 65 who could not otherwise meet the cost of needed hospital care.

Under the new plan, persons who are eligible can receive 30 days of hospital care and 60 days of post hospital nursing home care.

Blue Cross and its 39 Member Hospitals in this region wish to express to Governor Scranton, Secretary of Public Welfare Arlin M. Adams, and the Legislature their appreciation of this progressive bipartisan move.

TO MAKE POSSIBLE the State's new hospital assistance program, more equitable standards will have to be applied in determining which in-patients under 65 are eligible for free care.

Undoubtedly, some families and individuals who are benefiting by the existing hospital-bill arrangement will find themselves no longer entitled to aid—it will all depend on their income and assets.

To such people, Blue Cross will become especially necessary. That is one reason why this special enrollment opportunity is now offered.

Eligibility for free care will be determined by the County Boards of Assistance. Families and individuals earning more per year or having more assets than set forth in the table below will be required to pay all or part of their hospital bill.

Size of Family	Income	Assets*
1 person	$1500	$1500
1 couple	2400	2400

For each dependent, add $500 to income

*Does not include home, furnishings, automobile, or $500 cash value of Life Insurance.

***

ALREADY IN EFFECT are regulations applying to qualification of needy people 65 years or older for hospital care—and certain nursing home assistance—under the Pennsylvania Medical Assistance for the Aged program. For complete information, see your local County Board of Assistance.

"I urge all who are able to do so to enroll for coverage at this time"

① AS A NON-GROUP MEMBER

(If you are 64 or under)*

Non-Group enrollment is designed for the early retired, the self-employed, proprietors of small businesses, students, domestic workers, farmers and those not working.

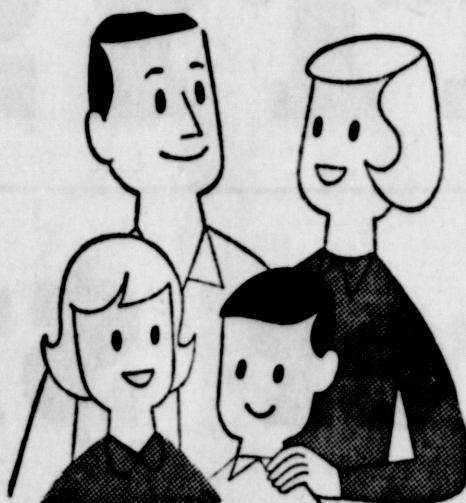

During the next 2 weeks everyone under 65 residing in the Central Pennsylvania area who is employed in a concern with fewer than 5 employees, and in reasonably good health can apply for Regular Non-Group membership.

Blue Cross coverage provides 30 or 70 days of care in a semi-private room, meals and special diets and general nursing service in any Member Hospital. For other hospital services such as the following there is no limit on use: electrocardiograms, X-ray and laboratory examinations, all recognized medicines and drugs for use in hospital, use of operating, delivery, recovery and special service rooms, administration of blood or plasma, oxygen and physical therapy. The patient makes only limited co-operative payments to the hospital of $2.50 per day for the first 20 days of hospitalization.

People know Blue Cross better than any other hospital expense protection. Here in Central Pennsylvania more than 720,000 are protected now. Their Blue Cross agreements entitle them to benefits in the form of hospital services, rather than in dollar allowances that may not be enough in these inflationary times. Your Blue Cross plan works directly with the hospitals; like a partnership. Upon entering a participating hospital you simply show your Blue Cross membership card; you are subjected to no further red tape, no credit investigation.

Send for information on benefits and rates under these contracts, together with a special application form. Simply fill in and mail the convenient coupon below.

② AS A SENIOR CITIZEN MEMBER

(If you are 65 or over)*

Anyone 65 or over who does not already have dependable Blue Cross protection should apply for membership right now. The only qualifications besides that of age are that you must reside in the Central Pennsylvania area and be in reasonably good health.

The Senior Citizen program provides excellent health benefits at the fairest rates possible for worthwhile and non-cancellable coverage. It is the kind of protection many older people—and sons and daughters who help them meet their hospital and doctor bills—are looking for. It is genuine, reliable protection furnished by the plan almost everybody has heard of and benefited from—Blue Cross.

During hospitalization in a Member Hospital a Senior Citizen subscriber is entitled to 30 days of care per year in a semi-private room, meals including special diets, general nursing care and practically every other in-hospital service without limit. Among these are all drugs and medicines for use in the hospital, use of operating, recovery and other specialty rooms, administration of blood or plasma, oxygen and so on. Certain other services, if prescribed by your doctor and rendered by a salaried employee of the hospital include anesthesia, laboratory examinations, X-rays, electrocardiograms and basal metabolism tests, physiotherapy, electroencephalograms. The Senior Citizen contract also covers visiting-nurse service at home following discharge from the hospital.

A cooperative payment of $2.50 daily is required for the first 20 days of hospitalization.

Send for detailed information on benefits and rates under the Senior Citizen contract—together with a special application form. Just fill in and mail the convenient coupon below.

Time is Limited

This enrollment opportunity—one of the most liberal ever offered by Blue Cross here—will close on Friday, January 31, 1964. Letters must be postmarked not later than midnight of the 31st.

Remember, more than 720,000 persons in Central Pennsylvania already belong to Blue Cross. This new offer makes available to additional thousands the valuable "service benefits" of famous Blue Cross—a family necessity and a must for all of us.

*In the case of married people applying for membership where one is 65 or older and the other 64 or younger, one may enroll for Senior Citizen coverage and the other for regular Non-Group coverage.

BRITISH GUARD EAST AFRICA; DISARM REBELS

By DENNIS NEED
NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—British troops kept peace in restive East Africa today after disarming mutinous native soldiers in the young commonwealth nations of Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda.

British and African officers questioned the rebellious troops in the three neighboring countries, trying to find out if there was a master plan behind the upheavals. All erupted last week in the wake of the Communist-tinged coup that toppled the sultan of Zanzibar.

PROBE CONTINUES

A spokesman at the British East Africa command post in Nairobi said no evidence has been found to indicate the mutinies were part of an over-all rebellion, but investigations were continuing.

The mutineers in Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda were former members of the Queen's African Rifles who had served under the British flag until the three territories gained independence. After independence, some British officers remained at the three governments' request to train and command the troops. The mutinies stemmed from demands for removal of the British and for higher pay.

DENIES RUMOR

A spokesman in London for Britain's Commonwealth Ministry denied Soviet charges that Britain plans to invade Zanzibar to overthrow the revolutionary regime. The spokesman said Britain never had any intention of intervening in Zanzibar despite the coup.

Premier Khrushchev warned that any forcible acts toward the leftist regime on the spice island would bring "dangerous consequences."

LEGISLATURE GOES TO WORK ON P.A. BUDGET

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
HARRISBURG (AP) — The state legislature returns from a three-week layoff today to start work on the Scranton administration's proposed $1.168 billion spending program for 1964-65.

Meanwhile, Gov. Scranton is scheduled to meet with Republican legislative leaders Tuesday to decide when to call a special session on unemployment compensation, Project 70 and eminent domain.

Most administration sources look for the call to come for Feb. 3 or Feb. 10 when the House and Senate Appropriations Committees have completed hearings on the record budget.

SEE SHORT WEEK

The hearings moved into their second week today and are scheduled to windup next week with testimony from education.

Both Senate and House leaders expect a short week this week.

AIM AT APRIL

Senate Majority Leader James S. Berger, R-Potter, figured on two days at the most.

The administration hopes to have the legislature conclude its chores by April 1, but prospects seem unlikely at this point, especially in view of opposition expected against unemployment compensation.

One of the big problems facing the administration is the temporary loss of its constitutional majority in the Senate because of the death of Sen. Henry J. Probert, R-Montgomery, and the illness of Sen. Stanley G. Stroup, R-Bedford.

Without Probert, the GOP holds a 26-23 edge over Democrats. Stroup is recovering from a severe attack of pneumonia and may be bedridden for several weeks, says Berger.

TROUBLE FOR PROJECT 70

Action on any major bills will probably be delayed until Stroup has recovered.

Stroup also was chairman of a legislative task force which conducted hearings last month on the administration's proposed unemployment compensation reforms.

The program calls for a $35 million a year increase in jobless pay taxes on employers and a reduction of a similar amount in benefits each year to idle workers.

EMINENT DOMAIN ISSUE

Project 70, the state's $70 million recreation and land conservation program, also is expected to run into some stiff roadblocks, especially from representatives of the rural counties which voted against the plan last November.

With an overwhelming endorsement from the metropolitan areas of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, Project 70 was approved.

The legislature must now stipulate how and where the state can spend the money.

Missionary Priest Is Presumed Dead

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP)—The Rev. Richard J. Novak, 28, of Johnstown, Pa., last seen 10 days ago in an area of Moslem-Hindu rioting, must be presumed dead, his superior said Sunday.

The Pennsylvania priest disappeared while cycling to the aid of Hindu families in the cotton mill area, 12 miles south of Dacca on the Burri Ganga River.

"We are morally certain he is dead," the Rev. Robert F. McKee, superior of the Holy Cross Fathers here said. The order runs the Notre Dame College in Dacca where Father Novak taught philosophy.

PA. ACCIDENT DEATH TOLL HELD TO SIX

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pennsylvania kept its death toll down to five on the state's highways over the weekend.

In non-traffic accidents, a man was killed when a tractor overturned on top of him.

The victims:

Washington, Pa. — Mrs. Mary Brandt, 42, of Wellsburg, killed Sunday in an unusual automobile accident. She had stepped out in front of a car operated by her husband, Jack, when another car hit the Brandt vehicle and forced it into her on Route 19 in Peters Township.

West Alexander — Riley Cooper, 77, killed Saturday when his tractor overturned on top of him at his farm near West Alexander in Washington County.

OTHER VICTIMS

West Chester — Donald Corneal Jr., 17, Lionville, killed in an auto crash on the Lincoln Highway in Malvern Friday night.

Fountain Hill — Russell Snyder, 62, of Salisbury Township, died Saturday in a hospital after his car hit a parked auto.

Ephrata — John Stephen Heilman, 21, of Grantville R. D., Dauphin County, killed Sunday when his car crashed into a tree about 10 miles east of Ephrata.

Philadelphia — Walter Daszkiewicz, 80, of Philadelphia, died Saturday less than two hours after he was struck by an auto.

State Aids Lead In Civil Rights

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania is in the upper third of all states in overall progress toward Negro goals according to Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

In an interview preceding a fund-raising banquet Saturday, Wilkins said both Pennsylvania senators, Democrat Joseph S. Clark and Republican Hugh Scott, have excellent civil rights records.

The banquet was sponsored by the Coatesville NAACP.

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Chester H. Rhodes, 77-year-old state Superior Court president judge, now in his third full 10-year term, says he has "no intention to run for a fourth term Rhodes made the statement Sunday in an interview at his home. He declined to elaborate.

70 is eminent domain, the right of the state to take over privately owned property for public use in the public interest.

The administration plan is to update the state's eminent domain laws. Proposed reforms will be ready for presentation to the legislature at the end of this week.

from ages 18 and over. Prepare now for U. S. Civil Service job openings in this area during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five passes.

Lincoln Service helps thousands prepare for these tests every year. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government. For FREE information on Government jobs, including list of positions and salaries, fill out coupon and mail at once—TODAY! You will also get full details on how you can prepare yourself for these tests. Don't delay—ACT NOW!

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Monday, Jan. 27, the 27th day of 1964. There are 339 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1656, the French religious philosopher, Blaise Pascal, published the first series of his "provincial letters." They were written in defense of Antoine Arnauld against the Jesuits.

On this date:

In 1756, composer Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart was born in Salzburg, Austria.

In 1880, inventor Thomas Alva Edison was awarded the first patent for the incandescent lamp.

In 1914, President Woodrow Wilson issued an executive order establishing permanent civil government in the Panama Canal Zone.

In 1928, the dirigible "Los Angeles" became the first airship to land on an aircraft carrier.

In 1945, U.S. forces under Gen. George Patton Jr. drove the Germans in Belgium and Luxembourg to within one mile of the Siegfried Line during World War II.

Ten years ago—Premier Yoshida called on the Japanese people to undergo temporary austerity to make their nation self-sustaining.

Five years ago—Soviet Premier Khrushchev said Russian successes in space rocketry had shifted the balance of world power to the Socialist camp and predicted that economic success would have the same result.

One year ago—France notified the United Nations it would not pay its 1963 share of principal and interest on U.N. bonds authorized to meet deficits on U.N. military operations in the Congo and Middle East.

PICKERINGS TO HOLD SERVICES

The Pickering Family of Allentown will be in charge of a series of Youth Week services which will open Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock at the Church of the Nazarene, Windbrary Lane, and will continue through next Sunday.

The pastor, the Rev. J. Weston Chambers, said the services will be open to the public.

Known as the "Musicalaires," the Pickerings include the Rev. R. E. and Mrs. Pickering and their children, Sharon, Max and Don. The Rev. Mr. Pickering, who has been pastor of Nazarene churches in Lebanon and Reading, began evangelistic work as a singer at the age of 14 and began his preaching ministry at 17. He is a graduate of Allentown Bible College.

The Pickerings, who have appeared on radio and television, present a "complete evangelistic team." They play cornets, accordion, guitar, bass fiddle, piano and organ and the children assist their parents in vocal and instrumental selections. Trio concert numbers are given by Mr. Pickering and Sharon and Max.
